*The Vegetable Storybook
For Readers and Eaters*

Written by Vicki Draeger, Ph.D. & Gail Bellamy
Illustrated by Jenny Campbell

These stories incorporate Hawaiian myths, history, oral tradition and popular culture to bring the subject of vegetables alive. Food does not exist in a vacuum: Our attitudes toward it are shaped by childhood experiences, ethnic heritage and family traditions.

The Vegetable Storybook introduces children to foods they may not be eating regularly. In the interest of the continuing health of the nation's children, some food attitudes need to be adjusted to incorporate more healthful foods into the diet.
